TRADOC CAPABILITY MANAGER CHARTER

By my authority as Commanding General, TRADOC, I hereby appoint

COLONEL ROBERT C. MORRIS, JR.

as the TRADOC Capability Manager (TCM) for

THE ARMY DISTRIBUTED LEARNING PROGRAM and

THE ARMY TRAINING INFORMATION SYSTEM

The TCM, reporting to the Commanding General, TRADOC, will perform as the Army's centralized manager and integrator for The Army Distributed Learning Program (TADLP) and the Army Training Information System (ATIS). The TCM is responsible for the seamless implementation of TADLP and ATIS within all Army schools and training environments while ensuring a continuity of training efforts.

The TCM provides oversight, integration, and management direction in all matters relating to TADLP and ATIS. Primary focus includes, but is not limited to, the integration and management of courseware, hardware, infrastructure, and resources; the integration, harmonization, and management of all training development and training management automation systems; and implementation of task-based training strategy. Direct coordination with Headquarters, Department of the Army, Army Commands, staff support/field operating agencies, inter-service and intra-service agencies/commands, and others as required, is authorized. The TCM provides issue resolution and makes recommendations to the Commanding General, TRADOC on all matters pertaining to TADLP and ATIS.

The TCM, by means of this charter, is hereby delegated the full-line authority of the Commanding General, TRADOC, for the centralized management and integration of TADLP and ATIS.

This appointment will remain in effect as long as the TCM is assigned unless his responsibilities are modified or his office is terminated by direction of the Commanding General, TRADOC.
